NUMBER 90

At the rate Mr. Conkling is being vaccinated he can't feel very happy over it.

Ireland has decreased in population some 250,000 in eleven years. The present population is 5,159,819.

The Republican members of the New York Legislature do not appear to have much solicitude for the demands of duty. They haven't got to that yet.

Mr. Tilden has finally struck an attitude on the New York question. He sides with Conkling, but thinks the President ought to nominate Robertson. The public mind will be much relieved in knowing just how Mr. Tilden stands. Samuel J. Tilden, cunning, isn't he?

Some of the Southern public men think "Bob" Lincoln will be the Republican candidate for President in 1884. Bob is a worthy young man, but his name will hardly save him. There is a growing sentiment against Illinois and Ohio furnishing the presidential timber for all coming time.

If Mr. Conkling and his friends have any influence in New York politics, they should end the fight one way or another. It has been said that Mr. Conkling can carry New York whenever he wants to. He should try his hand at carrying the Legislature first, and then tackle the State at large afterwards.

It rarely ever happens that "easy lies the head that wears the crown." The Emperor of Russia is trembling with fear lest a bomb or dynamite puts an end to his reign. The discovery of 150 pounds of dynamite under one of the principal bridges in St. Petersburg, is not calculated to give the Czar much assurance that his reign will put an end to Nihilism.

Secretary Blaine has been interviewed in regard to his connection with Robertson's nomination, and influencing the President in other appointments. He says he never meddled with the President's business, and after he learned he was to be appointed to the cabinet he told Mr. Garfield he did not want another Blaine man in the cabinet, and none were appointed.

The Chicago Journal is really waking up to business. It says: "General Grant is well acquainted with General Fairchild, of Wisconsin, and knows his great deserts. He knows that at the breaking out of the war he went to the front before Grant did, and made greater personal sacrifices to maintain the integrity of the Union and put down the rebellion. He left an arm on the battlefield of Gettysburg as a test of his loyalty to the old flag. And yet Grant grows at Garfield for not displacing this gallant soldier and meritorious civilian, to make room for a lazy and inefficient brother-in-law."

All the four candidates for President in 1880 (Lincoln, Douglas, Breckinridge, and Bell) are dead. Of the four candidates for Vice President, Hannibal Hamlin and "Jo" Lane still live. —Chicago Times.

"Jo" Lane, who was a candidate for Vice President on the ticket with John C. Breckinridge, is not living. He died at his home in Roseburg, Oregon, on Tuesday night, April 19. The Times should spend less time in abusing Mr. Medill and devote more of it to gathering news. The Inter Ocean says Henry S. Lane, who died in Indiana on Sunday, was a candidate for Vice President on the ticket with Breckinridge. This is as bad a blunder as the Times made. On matters regarding public men and national measures the Chicago papers sometimes get badly rattled.

A man in Newark, Ohio, thought to "bring up a boy in the way he should go," and made an experiment on his own son. The kind of punishment he dealt out he described himself when in court: "The stick I put on his tongue," he testified, "was a flat birch stick, an inch wide and one-fourth of an inch thick. I split it back over half way, put an ordinary carpet tack in the top part of the stick, had him put his tongue in, and pressed down with my thumb and finger, and he pulled his tongue out. I put it on several times. I punished him in this way to make an impression on his mind." The demon-like father was arrested for such inhuman conduct, and at the time barely escaped being lynched by the citizens of Newark.

Both Mr. Storey, of the Chicago Times, and Mr. Medill, of the Tribune, are vice presidents of the international cotton exposition, which meets in Atlanta, Georgia. This is like bringing together fire and powder. There are no two men in the United States who hate each other with a more bitter and deep-seated hatred than William F. Storey and Joseph Medill. Inasmuch as they represent the same city in the exposition, occupy the same honorary position, and will be placed on the same platform during the interesting exercises at the cotton exposition, it will not be out of place to give the opinion these men have of each other.

Mr. Medill's estimate of Mr. Storey, in Sunday's Tribune, June 19: "As an editor Mr. Storey has never been a success. As a business man he has been a conspicuous failure, but as a howler for cold victims he is without a peer. He is a journalistic mendicant and a professional blackguard."

Mr. Storey's estimate of Mr. Medill, in Monday's Times, June 20: "Joemedill is as vile in his business methods as in everything else—in his social habits. He is nasty. He is very vile. He is almighty vile. The Times has no charity for a fraud, and that is why it has no charity for Joemedill. He is a fraud and humbug, and has been practicing fraud upon the community for years."

This is the kind of a warfare these two metropolitan sheets have adopted. It is a personal fight carried into their respective newspapers, and about which the public care but little. The quarrel shows how low two of the most prominent journalists in the United States can stoop when a personal fight is on hand.

CONFERENCE TALK.

The Content at Albany Grows Hotter and Hotter—No Compromise.

ALBANY, June 21.—The half-breeds, the stalwarts and the half-breed stalwarts have held separate conferences to-night, and the result is not favorable to an early adjustment of the existing differences. There now appears to be little hope for an adjournment this week. The half-breeds stood up in their meeting and resolved to stay until the 31st of December if needs be to prevent the election of Conkling and Platt, and to secure the election of two friends of the administration to adjourn to Saratoga. Conkling spoke for over an hour to the stalwart conference which was held in the Delavan parlors, adjoining that of the Depew. He rehearsed his difficulties with the President. He spoke of the unfairness and bias of the Republican press, and urged his supporters to stand firm in the position they had assumed. That position he urged, was to be commended when contrasted with the half-breed subservience to the demands of corporations. He estimated that the question had got to that point, where it could be well relegated to the people, and it was a question of safety and did not demand such a course. The charge of bribery and corruption made a sufficient basis for a threatening contest. Mr. Conkling's supporters in this conference numbered 28, and they adjourned, resolved against any sort of a compromise. Conkling made a bitter attack on the lobby. There is little talk of hope of a compromise. The Conkling men will not move an adjournment, but it is understood they will support such a resolution emanating from the Democrats.

WILL HE DO JUSTICE?

A General Cleaning Out of Clerks in the Pension Office Called for.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—It is reported that Colonel Dudley, when he assumes his duties as commissioner of pensions, will remove all Democrats and ex-rebels, and put Union soldiers in their places. This, of course, is in accordance with an existing law, which requires that other things being equal, honorably discharged soldiers and sailors shall have the preference. The Republican, in calling attention to this, says: "As a matter of fact, there is not a single bureau in any department in which there are not to be found men who not only were never in the Union army themselves, but whose sympathies and those of their relatives were decidedly upon the other side, and in many cases those who fought for the 'lost cause' now found comfortable clerkships, while Union veterans are in vain begging employment. So, too, as to the female employees. Instead of the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers, women whose relations never saw the army, if they did, fought against the United States, are those holding these positions to furnish their own spending money, having good homes with their parents, are the occupants of the desks that widowed mothers, struggling to educate the child that her soldier husband left behind, when he gave up his life on the field, in the hospital, or in the Southern prison, will be glad to fill. In the pension office, of all others, ex-soldiers and their widows and orphans should be especially cared for, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Dudley has been correctly reported as his intended course, when he shall assume the duties of commissioner."

THE ALUMNI.

Annual Meeting of the Alumni of the State University.

MADISON, Wis., June 21.—The annual meeting of the State University alumni was held in the Assembly chamber to-night. The Rev. F. S. Steen, of Milwaukee, class of '68, delivered the address, entitled "Secularized Education." He advocated paying more attention to moral and religious instruction in public schools. The chamber was crowded and the galleries partially filled. At the conclusion of the exercises the alumni, with their ladies, repaired to the banquet hall, where seats for 120 were provided, which were about all occupied. Toasts and responses were made, the festivities lasting until a late hour.

In the afternoon class-day exercises were held at the University gymnasium. The history of the class was given by Eva C. Goodall, Charles A. Foster delivered an oration on our national literature. Oscar J. Frost responded to the toast in the presentation of a spade to the junior class by Fred S. White. Julius Nelson was elected prophet and Charles R. Evans delivered the valedictory address.

IMPORTANT REDUCTION.

Another Expedited Star Mail Route Cut Off.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Postmaster General James made another important reduction of expense in connection with the star route investigation to-day. The route from Vinita, I. T., to Las Vegas, N. M., was 173 miles long. It was given by Brady to the Parkers combination for $6,330 per annum, for a period of three years and nine months. After the contract was awarded the pay was increased for increase of trips and expedition of schedule to $150,691. This pay continued for ten months, when it was reduced to $129,178, and then again reduced to $84,691. On the 1st of July all this pay will be cut off. All "expedition" has been removed from the line, and the distance reduced 300 miles. The annual pay will now be $12,025. The action of the postmaster general was based upon reports made by inspectors who carefully examined the route.

PREJUDICE KILLS.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had pushed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents.

ACCIDENT TO A CORPSE.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 21.—A peculiar and very distressing accident occurred here to-day. The wife of Philip Steule died yesterday, and, in accordance with the rules of the Catholic church, of which she was a member, the body was placed in an apartment, on a kind of altar or dais, and a number of candles lighted, one of them being at the head of the coffin. During the absence of the persons who had been left to keep watch over the body the candle at the head of the coffin fell upon the shroud, igniting the flesh about the head, face, and neck. A woman living in an adjoining house saw the flames and smelt the odor of burning flesh. Rushing into the house, she gave the alarm. There was a wild scramble for the room where the corpse lay, and many hands were soon busy tearing away the burning raiment and pouring water upon the coffin to extinguish the flames. In a short time the fire was got under control, a new shroud and coffin obtained, and the body again put in readiness for burial. The affair has occasioned considerable excitement, all the persons concerned being of the highest respectability.

ROBERTSON AND MERRITT.

The Arrangement Between Robertson and Merritt Relating to the Collectorship.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—It is said at the treasury department that in the event the senatorial contest at Albany should continue, Mr. Merritt will remain collector of the port of New York only until such time as Mr. Robertson can assume the office, without weakening the administration influence in the New York legislature. This is the arrangement made between Mr. Robertson and Mr. Merritt. The latter asked the privilege of continuing as collector until the close of the fiscal year, which ends with the present month. Since that arrangement was consented to, it has become evident that Senator Robertson's presence might be necessary at Albany for some weeks, so the day of filing his bond is postponed. Mr. Merritt has been receiving his instructions as consul general at London, and is not, it is said, at all anxious to vacate his present office.

GRANITE FOR CHICAGO.

MADISON, June 21.—David Stephens, of this city, has been awarded a $40,000 contract by the authorities of Chicago, for furnishing granite from his quarry at Waterloo, Wis., for macadamizing the boulevards of that city, and also for furnishing square blocks of granite for paving the streets. The granite from the Waterloo quarry is of a very superior quality.

REMOVED FOR CAUSE.

MILWAUKEE, June 21.—Dr. Marden, Superintendent of the county hospital, was removed to-day, the committee appointed to investigate the charges of immorality made against him reporting that he was an unfit person to have charge of the institution.

MURDER.

A Dane County Woman Arrested on Charge of Murdering Her Illegitimate Child.

MADISON, June 21.—Sheriff Weeks to-day arrested Augusta Shimming in the town of Dunkirk, in this county, on the charge of murdering her illegitimate child as soon as born. The girl was working in the family of Mr. Devoe. She was taken sick, and refused to allow any one in her room. After a few days she appeared in the kitchen, but was too weak to do any work, and left her place. A young boy working for Mr. Devoe discovered a few days after the head of a child in the baryard under a manure pile. Search resulted in finding the remainder of the body. The sheriff was informed, and in connection with the district attorney, Mr. La Follette, the arrest was made. The girl gives a great many conflicting reports of the affair, and implicated several of the respectable farmers in the neighborhood. It is said she admits that this is the fourth illegitimate child she has made way with in a similar manner.

PARK FOR MILWAUKEE.

MILWAUKEE, June 21.—Alex. Mitchell is negotiating the purchase of the old Catholic burying ground on Grand avenue, which extends to the bluffs of Menominee Valley, where it commands a fine view of the southern portion of the city. The grounds belong to the school of the Sisters of Notre Dame, and are valued at $10,000. It is the intention of Mr. Mitchell to donate the tract to the city for a public park.

THE CUTICURA REMEDY.

Some Facts Regarding Them Who Make Them and what is Thought of Them by the Drug Trade—Interview of a Times Reporter with Peter Van Schaack, Esq.

From the Chicago Times.

To enable the Times to furnish its readers with some reliable information regarding the Cuticura remedy, which are now attracting so much public attention, a reporter called yesterday upon Mr. Peter Van Schaack, of Van Schaack, Stevenson & Co., wholesale and retail druggists, corner Lake and Dearborn streets, when the following facts were elicited:

R.—Will you oblige the readers of the Times by answering a few questions regarding the Cuticura remedy?

Mr. Van S.—Certainly; fire away.

R.—Do they sell well?

Mr. Van S.—The sale of Cuticura, Cuticura Resolvent, and Cuticura Soap has been unprecedented.

R.—What reasons do you give for so large a sale?

Mr. Van S.—I give four reasons. First, they are original and revolutionary in their composition and mode of treatment. Second, they undoubtedly possess great curative properties. Third, there are thousands upon thousands of sick and suffering who have tried and found wanting the usual remedies and modes of treatment, and who are ready to welcome a really great and successful medicine. Fourth, the price of them is within the reach of every invalid.

R.—Are your large sales of the medicines through your agents?

Mr. Van S.—No; they are legitimate mail orders. We employ no travelers on the road—are fundamentally opposed to that way of selling goods—the retailer has to stand such expenses, and such staple goods as these require no one to force them off.

R.—Do you class them as patent medicines?

Mr. Van S.—I do not. They are proprietary only so far as their names are concerned, these being held as trademarks.

R.—Can you tell us something about this firm?

Mr. Van S.—Weeks & Potter are importers, wholesale druggists and chemists, and for twenty-five years have been the foremost house in the trade in New England.

R.—It is popularly supposed that advertising will sell most anything, regardless of merit. Is it true?

Mr. Van S.—No. A remedy falsely claiming to possess virtues of which it is in fact destitute, will surely fail. No reputable firm—and druggists are the most competent judges—would think of risking fame and fortune on any medicine unless it had, under the most trying circumstances, proved itself to possess extraordinary medicinal value. The expenses attending the introduction of such remedies is enormous. A fortune must be spent before any return can be expected. If, after a wide distribution, they are found to possess the virtues claimed for them, those who have been cured will recommend them one to another, and thus make them remunerative. When a man backs his statements with his own money, you may generally rely upon them. This Weeks & Potter are doing.

R.—Have they ever before prepared medicines for popular use?

Mr. Van S.—I believe not. They are, like ourselves, agents for a great many, but we think these are the first that they prepare themselves. It is but once in a lifetime that a discovery is made of a remedy that such a firm as Weeks & Potter are willing to stake reputation and fortune on.

R.—Are their prospects flattering, or otherwise?

Mr. Van S.—Very flattering. As I said before, the remedies undoubtedly possess great merit. And besides, they treat blood and skin diseases according to a new and thoroughly rational plan, that must take a firm hold on the confidence of those who suffer from chronic diseases of the blood, skin and scalp.

Rely on the Druggist.

"Malt Bitters are the best 'bitters.'"

"They promote sleep and allay nervousness."

"Best Liver and Kidney medicine we sell."

"They knock the 'chills' every time."

"Consumptive people gain flesh on them."

"Malt Bitters have no rival in this town."

"Best thing for nursing mothers we have."

"We like to recommend Malt Bitters."
